A Guatemala Update

Last month a team of twelve (five from Rose of Sharon, seven from Mount Hermon) traveled to lend our time and talents to the work of Good Shepherd Ministries in Quetzaltenango, Guatemala. I would like to share a quick update of how everything is progressing under the leadership of Roger and Vicki Grossmann as well as hopes for the future.

The first time Mount Hermon traveled to Guatemala six years ago, we were tasked with continued construction of the main building. If you visited today, you would see a clinic actively serving the surrounding villages, a pharmacy stocked with prenatal vitamins and antibiotics, and a training center for pastors and youth to prepare them to be witnesses for Jesus Christ when they return to their family and friends. This main mission continues to be the center for these ministries and more.

A short drive into the city gets us to the “Hogar de Niños,” or “Children’s Home.” It is an orphanage that Roger and Vicki took on in addition to their other responsibilities in partnership with Baptist Children’s Homes of NC. It was a step of faith, but it stretched their vision of what could be achieved by and for Jesus Christ. I remember visiting it three years ago. A few of us were cleaning and remodeling rooms, preparing them for orphans for which the Guatemalan government were eager to find safe homes. Today, the orphanage is home to over twenty precious children. And what a colorful and joyous place it is. We saw nothing but smiles on the faces of these little ones who literally were saved from the direst of fates.

The “Hogar de Niños” is near capacity, and there is still such a need for safe places for orphaned children. What did Roger and Vicki decide? “Why not expand our capacity and link our ministries together?” Much of our efforts last month were in constructing the first of two buildings behind the main mission building that would serve as boys and girls homes for the older children. They would live under the guidance of a house parent, continue their schooling, and learn skills that will serve them when they graduate into adulthood. Our team was privileged to see the first children move in to their new home the very week we were there. Their first chore? Learn how to care for eight hens who moved into their new coop that same week just next door!

This is a time of resolutions, a time of financial decisions, a time of giving. Mount Hermon has dedicated our Christmas Offering to the Good Shepherd Ministries. Whatever you give will go directly to pastor training, church planting, health programs, baby food, and raising children in the light of Jesus Christ. Jesus calls us to lay treasure in heaven. I am eager to see the treasure of these children when we are united in God’s Kingdom to hear the stories of how our little gifts changed the course of their lives.

*For you know the generous act of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, so that by his poverty you might become rich.
II Corinthians 8:9*

God has never asked anyone to do anything he has not provided the means to do. It is true God has asked people to do some rather remarkable things. The Bible is replete with such examples. You may have witnessed this in your own life. In every instance, however, we know of no person God has ever "hung out to dry." All God asks is that you start where you are spiritually and financially. In time, as you demonstrate your willingness to make good use of what He has given and to trust Him for the results, you will have more and greater opportunities to be generous. This is how the universe works. Keep your eyes wide open and observe Him at work. He will multiply your generosity, your capacity, and your opportunities. To be generous. In the process, He will fill your life with incredible meaning as you become more involved in making a difference in your world. As your personal worldview changes, so does the world around you.

Discipleship

Here we are again at the beginning of a new year reflecting on the past and promising ourselves to do better this year. I don't make resolutions. I can't make promises to myself and God that I know I can't keep. I will have a quiet time everyday. Won't happen because of my work schedule. Lose enough weight to be healthy. How much is enough? 5-10-15...? Losing implies that this is something that I might like to find again so nix that one. Be happy. What will make me happy? More money, bigger house, nicer car, more "stuff"?

So for the year 2019 I think I will listen to the prophet Micah and follow his words of instruction in Micah 6:8 "He has showed you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly, and to love kindness and mercy, and to walk humbly with your God."

Sounds like a great way to live don't you think?

Children/Youth Team

In 2018, our children and youth were involved in activities sponsored by the Yates Baptist Association, such as the Kingdom Celebration and the Annual Worship Meeting. They joined together and learned from their brothers and sisters in Christ, realizing that all God's people can work together to advance His Kingdom. They raised money and collected can goods for Souper Bowl of Caring. They volunteered their time for events such as the Easter Celebration, the Yard Sale Fundraiser, the Community Block Party, and the Hurricane Relief Fundraiser. They raised money for Compassion International, to send to Nica Aram in the Philippines. They took an interest in missions outside of our own church, by attending the Missions Conference in Charlotte, in addition to helping various mission organizations around our area. They cooked and served lunch with our sister church Yates every Wednesday in the summer at Reality Ministries. They also spent a week in Greenville, S.C. at Passport Missions camp serving the community there. The youth, children, and their families also attended the yearly weekend retreat at Camp Cheerio. They participated in our churches Touch Outreach ministry by visiting, taking communion to shut-ins, and going Christmas caroling. They also led our congregation in worship many times throughout the year, using their gifts and talents leading in music, playing instruments and singing in the choir. Along with all this, outside of the church, they spent time together bonding through celebrating birthdays and holidays, going to each other's school events, and supporting each other in times of sorrow and need. Going to church may seem like just a Wednesday and Sunday kind of thing, but being the Church is an everyday journey we take together as a family of believers. Altogether, 2018 was a year of change and growth, and our church is privileged to have so many young hearts stepping up to share their faith and serve their community and church. Let us continue to be the Church all throughout the coming year.

PURCHASE A PEW!

In the 1980's when the current sanctuary was built a fundraiser at that time was the purchase of a pew in memory or honor of a loved one for $1,000 each. There is a plaque on the end of each pew with the information of the honoree and the purchaser. We have come to realize there were 10 pews that were never purchased. The decision has been made to open the sale of these remaining pews.

If you have any interest in donating $1000 for one of the remaining pews, a check for $1000 needs to be made payable to Mount Hermon. The church will have a memorial plaque made and mounted. The pews will be sold on a first come basis. All money will go to the Property Renovation Phase fund unless otherwise requested.

If you have any question contact Peggy Mason at the church office.
